

How PVM improved business processes for Bristan

The Challenge: Bristan

Efficiencies and cost-reduction can be driven across multiple areas of a fleet. In the case of our partnership with Bristan, we were tasked with driving efficiencies in the business by streamlining processes. At the time, Bristan had 27 vehicle suppliers and took services such as driver license checking and accident management from different companies. In this study, we explore how we partnered with them to achieve their objectives.

Bristan Group rely on their mixed fleet of 73 cars and commercial vans to perform business functions from customer care to sales. Responsibility for the fleet lies with the HR and Payroll Administrator who took over the role in 2011, at a time when the company had 27 different car suppliers, and separate suppliers for accident management, licence checking and online driver training. It was therefore essential to streamline the processes to make the job more manageable.

Bristan Group began their partnership with Pendragon Vehicle Management in 2015. As a provider of a total fleet and mobility solution, Bristan Group were able to draw on PVM's ability to not only fund and supply vehicles from marques that include Audi, Volkswagen, Ford, Jaguar, Mercedes-Benz and Toyota, but also to provide the necessary accident and risk management services to satisfy their fleet requirements, without the need to go to multiple suppliers.

The Results.

By working together to streamline processes, the Fleet Administrator now only has one provider to deal with. As part of the automotive group behind Evans Halshaw and Stratstone, Bristan benefits from Pendragon PLC's purchasing power and a wide range of vehicle marques with which to offer their employees, giving the company competitive rentals and keeping drivers happy with a great range of vehicles to drive.

Pendragon are invested in assisting with the day-to-day operations and help look after drivers across the fleet by providing maintenance, accident management and risk management, ensuring drivers are kept safe, are well-trained, and kept moving should vehicles go down unexpectedly.

The net result of Pendragon's involvement with Bristan is a significant reduction in the amount of time the company needed to invest in their fleet, meeting their primary objective.
